MAHARASHTRA

CAPITAL: Bombay.

Area: 1,18,884 sq. miles; Population: 39·50 millions (Provisional-1961 census).

The State is divided into 26 Districts. There are 232 Talukas and 219 municipalities.

The Districts with their capitals in brackets are:—

Dhulia (Dhulia), Nasik (Nasik), Thana (Thana), Greater Bombay, Kolaba (Alibag), Ratnagiri (Ratnagiri), Ahmednagar (Ahmednagar), Poona (Poona), Satara (Satara), Sangli (Sangli), Kolhapur (Kolhapur), Sholapur (Sholapur), Jalgaon (Jalgaon), Aurangabad (Aurangabad), Parbhani (Parbhani), Bhir (Bhir), Osmanabad (Osmanabad), Nanded (Nanded), Buldhana (Buldhana), Akola (Akola), Amravati (Amravati), Yeotmal (Yeotmal), Wardha (Wardha), Nagpur (Nagpur), Chanda (Chanda), Bhandara (Bhandara).

It may be added here that two Districts Thana and Dhulia have become smaller after bifurcation through the loss of villages (See under Gujarat).

These 26 Districts are grouped into four Divisions.

Bombay Division:—Greater Bombay, Thana, Nasik, Dhulia, Jalgaon, Kolaba, Ratnagiri.

Poona Division:—Ahmednagar, Poona, Satara, Sangli, Kolhapur, Sholapur.

Aurangabad Division:—Aurangabad, Parbhani, Bhir, Osmanabad, Nanded.

Nagpur Division:—Buldhana, Akola, Amravati, Yeotmal, Wardha, Nagpur, Chanda, Bhandara.

The State came into being on May 1, 1960 when the Bombay Reorganisation Act, 1959, came into force. This Act split the old Bombay State into two States, Maharashtra and Gujarat.

The strength of the Maharashtra Assembly is 264, of the Council 78. The State sends 18 members to the Rajya Sabha and 44 to the Lok Sabha.

It is the third biggest State in the Union both in respect of area and population.

The density of the population is highest in Greater Bombay 22,293 per sq. mile and lowest in Chanda 135 per sq. mile. The sex ratio is 935 females per 1,000 males. This ratio is highest in Ratnagiri District, 1,230 and lowest in Greater Bombay, 660.

There are six cities with a population of one lakh and above and 15 towns with a population of between 50,000 and one lakh.

The percentage of population dependent on agriculture is 63·97. The percentage of cultivating labourers and their dependents is 14·79. The percentage of owner-cultivators and their dependents is lower in the State than in the Union. Trial by jury has been abolished in the State.

GEOGRAPHY

The Sahyadris or the Western Ghats run quite close and almost parallel to the west coast, leaving a very narrow strip of land between the sea and the lofty mountain barrier, which at no place is more than 60 miles in breadth. This narrow strip of land known as Konkan, stretches from Daman to Vengurla to a distance of about 350 miles. Interspersed with hills, the land is very undulating and the soil far from fertile, only suitable for paddy cultivation in flat patches, which lie couched in small valleys and perched on hill slopes. The mountain sides are, however, covered by evergreen vegetation, which lends Konkan its spell-binding scenic beauty and also its horticultural wealth.

The North Konkan is a flat alluvial belt along the coast formed by the rivers Ulhas and Vaitarna in their lower courses. This belt is not more than ten miles wide, with a series of parallel ridges in the background. Along the coast is a string of small ports like Rewas, Harnai, Dabhol, Ratnagiri, Vijaydurg, Malvan and Vengurla served by the Konkan ferry service.

To the east of the Sahyadris stretches a vast plateau intercepted by rivers which rise in the Sahyadris and flow eastward. In the north is the Satpura range which runs almost in a straight line from east to west. The main Sahyadri range all along its length sends its arms across the tableland. To the north of Nasik is the Satmala range with its continuation in the Balaghat range, which goes right upto the eastern border of Vidarbha and Marathwada. The transverse ranges to the south of Nasik are much shorter and of little consequence.

The State is drained by a number of rivers—Tapi, Godavari, Bhima, Krishna, Wardha and Vainganga. The smaller rivers are the tributaries of one or the other of these rivers.

In between the Satpuras in the north and the Balaghat range in the south lies the great Tapi trough. The Tapi, rising in the Satpuras, flows westward, with the Purna flowing into it in its upper course. The Tapi valley, which comprises the western parts of Vidarbha and districts of Dhulia & Jalgaon, is one fertile belt of black soil, which grows cotton and is known as 'the black cotton soil'.

To the farther east is the Vainganga-Wardha valley. The two rivers, Wardha and Vainganga, flow south-east before they drain into the Godavari. The land abounds in lakes and tanks, many of which are man-made, which add to the natural beauty of the land. The green meadows dotted by the blood-red palas flowers lend a unique charm to the land on this eastern border of Maharashtra.

To the south of the Balaghats, right from Nasik to Nanded stretches the great valley of the Godavari, the cradle of Maharashtrian culture. The Godavari rises in the Brahmagiri mountain near Trimbakeshwar, which is one of the twelve 'Jyotirlingas'. From about fifteen miles from Trimbakeshwar is Nasik on the banks of the Godavari which is also a sacred place of the Hindus. Paithan in Marathwada was once the seat of learning and the centre of cultural movements. Still farther east is Nanded, the holy place of the Sikhs, with the famous Gurudwara shrine on the banks of the Godavari.

Whereas the Godavari valley linked by the valleys of Wardha and Vainganga which flow into it, is the nerve centre of Maharashtra, the Krishna valley is its southern periphery and historically its strong arm. It covers North Satara,* South Satara,† Sholapur and Kolhapur districts. The land in some parts of the Krishna valley is much less fertile and even barren, and is liable to acute scarcity conditions.

It is interesting to note that in Maharashtra the trades relating to distribution of commodities are run to a large extent by Gujaratis and Marwaris. Thus even in the remotest village, the cloth dealer is usually a Gujarati, while the grocer is generally a Marwari.

There are a number of Adibasi communities in Maharashtra, who live either in dense forests or on the mountain perches of the Sahyadris and the Satpuras. The main communities among these are the Agaris, the Warlis, the Katkaris and the Thakurs of Thana and Kolaba districts, the Bhils of Dhulia and the Korkus and the Gonds of Vidarbha.

BASIC FACTS AND FIGURES

Area: 1,18,884 sq. miles: Population: 39,504,294; density 332 per sq. mile; No. of towns 373; No. of villages 35,526; literacy 29·70 per cent; literacy among males 41·84 per cent; literacy among females 16·70 per cent; Total male population 20,419,059; total female population 19,081,235. Percentage increase of total population 1951-61; 23·44.

No. of towns and villages classified according to population (1951 census):—

No. with population less than 500: 20,028; no. with pop. between 500 and 1,000: 9,191; no. with pop. between 1,000 and 2,000: 4,667; no. with pop. between 2,000 and 5,000: 1,579; no. with pop. between 5,000 and 10,000: 288; no. with pop. between 10,000 and 20,000: 84; no. with pop. between 20,000 and 50,000: 41; no. with pop. between 50,000 and 1,00,000: 15; no. with pop. of 1,00,000 and above: 12 ‡.

Income during 1957-58 (in crores of Rs.): 1,219·2. (Agriculture, animal husbandry and ancillary activities 457·8 (37·5); Mining, manufacturing and small enterprises 295·5 (24·2); Commerce, transport and communications 264·0 (21·7); other services 201·9 (16·6); Per capita income: Rs. 342).

Note: The figures in brackets show percentage to the total.

Livelihood Classes:—Cultivators of land wholly or mainly owned and their dependents 1,26,65,747; cultivators of land wholly or mainly unowned and their dependents 24,28,813; cultivating labourers and their dependents 47,32,859; non-cultivating owners of land, agricultural rent receivers and their dependents 6,45,798.

No. of persons in production other than cultivation 41,92,762; commerce 22,38,279; transport 7,19,532; other services 43,79,296.

Economically Active (figures in '000):—Self-supporting persons 8,610; earning dependents 5,889; economically active 14,499; percentage of economically active persons to total population 45·1.

Land Utilization ('00 acres) as in 1957-58:—Total area 7,64,843; area under forests 1,33,776; net area sown 4,40,170; gross cropped area 4,59,513.

Barren and uncultivable land 46,132; land put to non-agricultural use 16,900; culturable waste 23,024; land under tree crops and groves 5,355; permanent pastures and grazing groves 37,285; current fallows 24,069; other fallow-land 35,247.

Forest figures for 1957-58: Total area ('00 acres) 1,57,151 (Reserved 1,02,626; Protected 42,845).

Area under major crops ('00 acres) as in 1958-59:—Rice 30,028; wheat 21,883; jowar 1,41,833; bajra 43,655; all cereals 2,48,898; all pulses 56,960; all food grains (cereals and pulses) 3,05,858; cotton 63,517; tobacco 685; groundnut 28,091; sugarcane 2,633.

The figures are in '00 acres, area under crops as in 1956-57:—

Ragi 5,847; maize 662; barley 121; tur 13,692; gram 11,857; potatoes 303; chillies 3,605; sesamum 3,146; castorseed 169; rape, mustard, linseed 6,849.

The area under certain groups of crops (figures in '00) as in 1956-57:—

Fruits and vegetables 3,138; condiments and spices 4,818; oil seeds 49,039; drugs and narcotics 881; fodder crops 21,102; total non-food crops 1,38,300.

AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION (figures in '000 metric tons) as in 1959-60.

ECONOMY

From the point of view of rainfall, the State can be divided into four regions—the Coastal area where the rainfall is between 80″ and 120″. The plateau areas where the rainfall is between 25″ and 80″ and is mostly around 25″—30″. In quite a few places it is less than 20″. The Vidarbha Districts where the rainfall varies between 30″ and 60″ are mostly around 60″.

There are a few acute scarcity areas:—in Poona District the areas of Shirur Taluka, Dhond Taluka, northern part of Baramati Taluka, villages to the north of Mula-Mutha river upto the northern boundary of Haveli Taluka. In Satara District Khanapur Taluka. In Sholapur District Karmala and Sangola Talukas. In Ahmednagar District Shrigondh Taluka.

The whole of Vidarbha is completely free from scarcity threats.

Rice is abundantly grown in the coastal Districts of Thana, Kolaba, Ratnagiri and also in Chanda and Bhandara. It accounts for one-fifth of the foodgrains grown in the State. Wheat accounts for only one-twentieth. Millets are grown abundantly in the Deccan, Vidarbha and Marathwada districts. Jawar is the major cereal and accounts for half the production. The total area under foodgrains is high.

Cash crops are important. The area under oil seeds is one-sixth and the area under cotton is one-fourth of the area under oil seeds and cotton respectively for the whole country. The two most important crops are thus oilseeds and cotton. The production of cotton is 26·1 per cent of the production of the whole country and, of groundnut 17·9 per cent of the production of the whole country. The State also grows a considerable amount of sugarcane.

The State has abundant forest wealth. Forests form 20·7 per cent of the area of the State. There are forest areas in all districts, but the thickest forest areas are, in Chanda, Amravati, Yeotmal, Bhandara, Nagpur, Dhulia, Thana and Nasik Districts. They produce various types of timber, teak and minor forest produce.

In the matter of live-stock, the milk-yielding buffalo population is greater than the cattle only in Kolhapur and Greater Bombay. The sheep and goat abound in all Districts but are particularly noticeable in Nasik, West Khandesh, Ahmednagar and Sholapur. The concentration of horses and ponies is greater in Marathwada, Dhulia and Ahmednagar.

In 1957 there were 810 banking offices. Out of these 206 were in Greater Bombay. Each office serves a population of about 40,000 in the State; in the Greater Bombay area the population served is 14,000.

Out of the 4,316 joint stock companies 3,493 were in the Greater Bombay area. Again of the 4,316 concerns more than one-third belong to commerce, one-fifth to processing and manufacture of metals, chemicals and products thereof. The paid-up capital per capita is Rs. 98 for the whole State. If the Greater Bombay area is excluded it would be Rs. 7. This shows the high degree of concentration in the Greater Bombay District.

The State is rich in minerals like manganese and salt. Salt is produced in the coastal Districts, while manganese is mined in the Vidarbha Districts and to some extent in Ratnagiri. Some iron is mined in Ratnagiri and Chanda. It is believed that Vidarbha and to some extent Marathwada have deposits of China Clay, limestone, coal etc. With these exceptions the mineral deposits elsewhere are poor.

The more important industries are cotton textiles, general and electrical engineering, chemicals, sugar, vegetable oils, paper and paper boards, soap. Out of the 8,036 registered factories in the State nearly half, that is, about 3,539 factories are in the Greater Bombay area. The factories in the remaining areas are concentrated in Sholapur, Nagpur, Bhandara, Poona, Ahmednagar and Thana Districts. The concentration in Marathwada Districts is very poor.

Out of the Rs. 197·7 crores of productive capital the textile industry alone accounts for 50 per cent. The large sugar and soap factories exist only in Maharashtra.

About 40 per cent of the towns in the State were electrified as in March 1958. Today all places with a population of 50,000 and over are electrified. Power generation and consumption in Greater Bombay are high. If this area is excluded the per capita consumption would be the same as for the Indian Union as a whole.

The figures for extra-municipal road-mileage as in March 1958 show that there were 17·5 miles of road per 100 sq. miles of area, or 64·7 miles of road per lakh of population. Mileage is highest in Ratnagiri District and comparatively poor in Marathwada and Vidarbha.

Social Services:—It is calculated that about a fourth of the population of Greater Bombay consists of students. In the State as a whole students make up one-eighth of the population. But the number of institutions per lakh of population is on the low side. The number of teachers per thousand of population is 4; in Greater Bombay it is 7.

Each Government dispensary or hospital in the State served a population of about 37,000 in 1957. Marathwada has poor medical facilities each hospital or dispensary serving 80,000. Each bed serves a population of 2,700 in the State.

On an average 24,018 persons registered for employment every month from April to December 1959. Of these about a tenth were found jobs every month by the exchanges.

AGRICULTURE

The total production of foodgrains in the Maharashtra State in the year 1956-57 is to the tune of 62 lakh tons which is 16·61 oz. per capita per day. Among non-food crop group, the production of cotton and groundnut is sizeable, it being 26·1 per cent and 17·9 per cent respectively of the production of these commodities in the Indian Union.

Sugarcane is grown in almost all the districts except the Konkan districts, the major cane-growing districts being Ahmednagar, Kolhapur, Poona, Nasik, Satara and Sangli, Sholapur and Aurangabad. These eight districts together have about two lakh acres under sugarcane, yielding approximately seven lakh metric tons of sugarcane (expressed in terms of gur) in the year 1956-57.

The Marathwada districts, with the inclusion of Jalgaon, have nearly 21 lakh acres under oilseeds. The corresponding figures for Vidarbha districts being nine lakh acres. The remaining districts of the Western Maharashtra have about 18 lakh acres under oilseeds. These figures for oilseeds do not include figures for cottonseed, of which there is considerable production in the cotton-growing districts of the State.

As regards cotton, there is an area of about 35 lakh acres under this cash crop in Vidarbha, yielding annually about 7 lakh bales (each bale of 392 lbs.), the corresponding figures for Marathwada (including Jalgaon) being 25½ lakh acres and 3½ lakh bales, respectively. Although cotton is grown in many places to some extent in Western Maharashtra, Dhulia is a major cotton tract in that region, with an area of about three lakh acres under it, growing nearly 60,000 bales.

Although the Konkan districts are lean in the production of food crops, they excel in horticultural wealth. Ratnagiri district has 7,600 acres under mangoes. Similarly, the district has 4,800 acres under cashewnut Thana district is the home of bananas, with an acreage of 2,600. Nagpur oranges are well known. They are grown in Nagpur, Amravati and Wardha Districts, which have about 24,000 acres under them.

LAND DEVELOPMENT

In the Second Plan the provision for land development was Rs. 182·42 lakhs against which the total expenditure incurred was Rs. 142·22 lakhs during the first four years, 1956-60.

In pursuance of its policy to make the tiller of the soil its owner a phased programme gradually eliminating all intermediaries is under implementation. The tenancy law in force in Marathwada, namely the Hyderabad Tenancy and Agricultural Lands Act, 1950, was found deficient in some respects. In particular, it did not provide for conferring occupancy rights on ordinary tenants. To make up for this and other deficiencies in the Act, the necessary amendments were made to the Act in 1958. The tenancy law of Vidarbha also did not contain any provision or adequately provide for conferring occupancy rights on tenants or fixing ceiling on land holdings. Suitable legislation namely the Bombay Tenancy and Agricultural lands Act, 1958 for the Vidarbha region came into force from December 30, 1958.

In order to ensure proper and quick settlement of compensation awards, in respect of the various land tenure abolition laws, the Bombay Land Abolition Tenure (Amendment) Act, 1958 and the Bombay Land Abolition Laws (Amendment) Act, 1958 were enacted. But the most important step taken by Government in this field is the one for the abolition of the inferior village watans, which were a stigma on the administration of the State. A beginning of the implementation of this reform has already been made.

The work of consolidation of holdings is regulated by different laws in the three different areas of the State. Under the old Bombay and Marathwada Acts, Government can take up any area for consolidation of holdings by notifying its intention to do so, but in Vidarbha, such schemes can be taken up in villages where two thirds or more tenure holders apply for the same. The consolidation work was started in the old Bombay areas from the year 1948 under the Bombay Prevention of Fragmentation and Consolidation Act, 1947. This Act has now been extended to the new areas also by the Act of 1958, which was brought into force from April 1, 1959.

There are vast areas of khar and khajan lands in the coastal tract of the State, which can be rendered cultivable by reclaiming them. The Khar Lands Development Board, established under the Bombay Khar Lands Act, 1948, has been reclaiming these salt-affected lands under the supervision of the P.W.D. staff.

All Talukas have seed multiplication farms. In the Second Five Year Plan of the State of Maharashtra, there was a provision of Rs. 280·55 lakhs for soil conservation, against which an expenditure of Rs. 321·59 lakhs was made during the first four years of the Plan.

Farmers' unions were set up at village and taluka levels for carrying out intensive bunding work with the aid of Government officials.

It was proposed to bund an area of 6·75 lakhs in the Maharashtra State during 1960-61.

The land ceiling legislation@, now awaiting the assent of the President (May 1961), provides for a more equitable distribution of land among the peasantry by placing a ceiling on the holding of an individual. The ceilings on dry crop land range from 66 acres to 126 according to soil conditions. The upper limit on simple crop irrigated land will be 48 acres and the limit on double crop irrigated land is 27 acres and on personally irrigated land is 18 acres. The land distribution programme was taken up after the formation of Maharashtra by simplifying the procedure of grants. About 400,000 acres of waste land have been distributed among the landless in the eight districts of Vidarbha and six districts of Maharashtra.

INDUSTRIES

There are 92 textile mills in Maharashtra with 40,14,531 spindles and 79,118 looms and an average daily complement of 2,52,217 workers. Out of these 92 units, 63 are in Greater Bombay alone, with total installed spindleage of 31,54,435 and 61,694 looms, which employ 1,94,398 workers daily. Out of the remaining units, four are in Aurangabad division, with 87,348 spindles and 1,840 looms, seven in Nagpur Division, with 2,60,400 spindles and 5,001 looms, 18 in Poona Division, with 5,12,348 spindles and 10,583 looms.

The rayon industry is a development of recent origin. There are two viscose rayon factories at Kalyan, with an installed capacity of 28·8 million pounds per annum, as against the total capacity of 68·3 million pounds estimated for the country as a whole.

Nine woollen mills are located in the Bombay-Thana region, with 55,772 spindles and 426 looms.

Five industrial sites are to be developed by the Govt. in the Ulhas Valley near Kalyan covering an area of five square miles.

Engineering :—In the field of engineering industry, there have been several notable developments particularly in the Bombay region. Some of these are machine tools like lathes, shaping machines, pillar drills, power hammers, metal cutting saws, steel and malleable iron castings, welding electrodes, electrical stampings, link chains, melting crucibles, umbrella ribs, steel furniture, safes and cash boxes, steel bells and copper roller engraving for textile industry.

Another feature is the beginning made in the manufacture of modern appliances like type writers, refrigerators, wireless receiving sets, wooden and plastic cabinets and household electrical gadgets. Manufacture of modern equipment for agricultural plant protection, pressure stores and lamps, stainless steel pressed wares and equipment, industrial machinery for textile and chemical industries and fabrication of heavy structurals like transmission power and pipe line, cranes, etc. has also developed in recent years.

The establishment of some of the highly specialised industries like manufacture of twist drills, cutters, taps, engineering files and grinding wheels is also noteworthy. The engineering industries located at Kirloskarwadi, Poona and Satara are known for their agricultural implements, engines and other products. There are about 27 units in the Poona division itself, manufacturing diesel engines, oil-engines, sugar-mill machinery, jeep trailors and tractors, non-ferrous utensils, agricultural implements, power looms, etc. In electrical engineering, the manufacture of electrical motors, transformers, cables for transmission and switch gears are worthy of mention.

In the metallurgical industry, Bombay has the only antimony refining unit in the country. A unit of powdered metallurgy, manufacturing self-lubricating gun metal bushes and cycle free wheels has also been recently established.

Sugar :—Maharashtra is one of the major sugar-producing States in the country, having 28 sugar factories, with a crushing capacity of 24,800 tons per day. They are located in the districts of Ahmednagar (11), Kolhapur (4), Poona (3), Satara (3), Sangli (1), Sholapur (3), and Aurangabad (1).

One of the important features of this industry is the organisation of co-operative sugar factories. This is borne out by the fact that out of the total licensed 28 factories, 14 are co-operative. Twelve more would be started during the Third Five Year Plan. Further, the Master Plan for Industrialisation envisages a sugar factory in Nasik District, two in the Shrigonda Taluka of Ahmednagar District, which is in the command area of Ghod Weir and one in Malsiras taluka of Sholapur District, after the Vir dam is completed. The sugarcane cultivators of Rahuri and Shrirampur talukas of Ahmednagar Dist. have decided to start a fertilizer factory in the co-operative sector to produce 40,000 tons of superphosphate and 16,500 tons of sulphuric acid annually. The cost of the project is estimated at Rs. 64 lakhs.

Industrial Alcohol :—Allied to the sugar industry is the industrial alcohol industry, which can be developed from the molasses available from sugar factories. Out of about 18 million gallons of alcohol made wholly from molasses in the country, 12,65,000 gallons are made in the five distilleries located in the Poona Division. In view of the increasing demand for power alcohol for industrial purposes, the State Government has decided to put up a new and bigger distillery at a cost of Rs. 71 lakhs at Chitali in Ahmednagar district in the place of the old unit at Nasik. The new distillery will have an installed capacity of about 9,000 gallons per day.

Chemicals :—The chemical industry in Maharashtra is developing fast, heavy as well as light.

For dye-stuffs Bombay, Thana and Parnera are the main centres manufacturing a wide range of products. Ceramic and glass, gases, oils and soaps, paints, pigments and varnishes, food products, rubber goods and other chemical industries also follow the same pattern.

The Automobile Industry :—Bombay is progressively undertaking the manufacture of cars, utility vehicles and scooters in three large assembly plants. The ancillary industry manufacturing component parts is also steadily developing under the patronage of the automobile industry. The Bicycle Industry is also making headway, having an annual licensed capacity of 2,30,000 bicycles.

There are in all three Paper Mills in Maharashtra, one each at Poona, Ogalewadi and Ballarpur. The Ballarpur mills have plans of expansion.

Oil Mills :—Groundnut being one of the important cash crops in Nagpur and Aurangabad Divisions, there are several oil mills located in these regions. In Aurangabad Division itself, there are 69 independent oil mills, Pachora and Amalner having oil hydrogenation plants. In Nagpur Division, there are about 82 independent oil mills. Akola and Shegaon in this Division have one oil hydrogenation plant each. In Bombay Division, the oil milling industry is concentrated in East Khandesh† where there are 30 mills and West Khandesh‡ district, 15 oil mills. In addition, most of the ginning and pressing factories in the cotton growing tracts, which grow groundnut also, have oil mills for off season working.

Ginning and pressing is an important processing industry serving the cotton-growing areas. There are about 608 such factories all over the State, a large number of them, 280, having been located in Nagpur Division. Little over 112 ginning and pressing units are spread over the entire cotton-producing area in Aurangabad Division giving seasonal employment to over 8,800 persons. In Bombay Division, 42 ginning and pressing factories are located in Dhulia District and 100 in Jalgaon District while there are 73 such factories in Poona Division.

A 17-member State Advisory Council of Industries, has been set up with the Chief Minister as Chairman to explore the possibilities of industrial development of the State.

MASTER PLAN

There are several other industries located in other parts of the State. The Master Plan for Industrialisation of Bombay State* has made specific recommendations for the establishment of industrial units and also generally indicated locations for them.

Heavy concentration of industries in certain areas leads to innumerable problems. In Maharashtra, the industries are concentrated in Greater Bombay and in certain other towns such as Sholapur, Nagpur, Bhandara, Poona, Ahmednagar and Thana. Out of the 8,036 factories in the year 1957, employing about seven lakh workers, as many as 3,539 factories employing four and half lakh workers were in Greater Bombay alone. There is, therefore, an urgent need for the dispersal of as many industries as possible to various rural centres. The Master Plan for Industrialisation has suggested starting of industrial estates at places like Dhulia, Nasik Road, Karjat and Chiplun-Khopoli. It has also suggested that as and when the Patalganga and Kundalika valleys develop by the establishment of large-scale industries, there will be a need to establish special industrial estates in these areas for linking small-scale industries. This apart, there was already a programme of establishing industrial estates in different parts of the State under the Second Five-Year Plan. It was decided to establish eleven industrial estates in Maharashtra. The programme envisaged industrial estates at Kurla, Bapti Road (Bombay), Atale (Kalyan), Kolhapur, Hadapsar (Poona), Malegaon (Nasik District), Karad, Nagpur, Amravati, Nanded and Marali Vaijanath.

* Bilingual. † Now known as Jalgaon. ‡ Now known as Dhulia. @ The Bill does not exempt sugarcane farms owned or managed by factories.

CC-0. Agamnigam Digital Presevation Foundation, Chandigarh

As the Thana area, due to the proximity of Bombay, is very rapidly developing as an industrial area, an industrial estate at Bhivandi in the Thana district would according to the Master Plan, give an incentive to the development of small-scale industries to serve as auxiliaries of and ancillaries to large-scale industries being established in the area.

Similarly, the Master Plan has expressed concern over the intense industrial activity in places like Nagpur and Akola and has suggested the setting up of satellite industrial townships in Kamptee-Kanhan near Nagpur and Badnera. For water consuming industries, Chanda has been suggested as an ideal site. Places like Shegaon, Khamgaon, Gondia and Kalmeshwar, where there is promise of industrial activity in the small-scale industries sector, are also suggested for development. For Poona Division, it has recommended an industrial estate at Ichalkaranji, where powerloom units are concentrated. Budhgaon in Sangli District, is another place which has been suggested for a rural estate. After this Nanded and Parali-Vaijanath, Jalgaon, Latur, Hingoli and Jalna, all in Aurangabad Division, should be the next choice for such estates.

MINERALS

The rich deposits of iron ores, estimated to be of the order of about 125 lakh tons, located in Vidarbha and Konkan, very large deposits of manganese ore, both of high and low grade, occurring in Vidarbha, particularly Nagpur and Bhandara districts, extensive deposits of bauxite, estimated at five crore tons in Kolhapur district alone, as also in parts of Ratnagiri, Thana and Kolaba districts and coal reserves of over 65 crore tons in Vidarbha, constitute the mineral wealth of Maharashtra.

In addition to these major minerals, there also occur other minerals like ilmenite, chromite, mica, silica, limestone, clay, etc.

Iron ore :—Very rich deposits of iron ore, estimated to be of the order of about 125 lakh tons, are located in various parts of Maharashtra, particularly in Ratnagiri and Kolaba districts and in Vidarbha region.

Important occurrences of iron ore are located in Ratnagiri District in Bombay Division, round about in Vengurla taluka and Bandapeta in Sawantwadi taluka. The overall potential appears to be enormous, the iron content in them varying from 45 to 60-66 per cent. A few mining concessionnaires are already working in the Redi area and the present annual output is about two lakh tons. Patches of iron ore, lateritic or otherwise, are also known to occur in Kolaba district, round about Janjira.

Nagpur region, however, seems to be rich, not only in manganese and coal deposits, but also in iron ore. Those occurring in Chanda district are the most important, both in extent and quality. They occur at places like Lohara, Asola, Dewalgaon, Bissi, Pipalgaon and Ratnapur.

Manganese :—The Vidarbha region has very large deposits of manganese ore, both of high and low grade. There are 231 working mines exploiting manganese ore in various parts of Nagpur and Bhandara districts, which are the main manganese producing areas of Vidarbha. Most of the areas bearing high grade ore have already been leased out. For the present, almost the entire quantity of manganese ore produced is exported in raw condition. However, recently, two ferro-manganese plants which will utilize a sizeable quantity of the ore are being set up in Nagpur and Bhandara districts.

In Bombay division also, the manganese ore appears to be occurring almost side by side with the three iron-ore belts running parallel in Ratnagiri district.

Kolhapur district has rich deposits of bauxite. More than 5 crore tons of bauxite exist in this zone. They occur at Udgeri, Dhangarwadi, Rangewadi, Radhanagari, Waki, Gargoti, Panhala, Ajara and Vishalgadh all in Kolhapur district.

In Bombay Division, bauxite occurs in Ratnagiri, Thana and Kolaba districts. The deposits of Ratnagiri lie in the up-ghat region at Amboli. The reserves were estimated at over 50 lakh tons. The ore occurs at Tungar hills and in the Borivli, Jogeshwari and Goregaon area. In Kolaba district, bauxite deposits of good quality have been reported at Dohane, Ambegaon and Wakalghar in Murud taluka and Wave and Shinona in the Shriwardhan taluka.

Coal :—Coal occurs at Kamptee in Nagpur district and in the Wardha valley. The Wardha valley comprises the Bandar, Warora, Majri, Rajura, Chanda (Durgpur, Mahakali, Babulpeth and Lalpeth), Ghugus and Ballarpur fields. The deposits are, however, of the second grade as compared to the Jharia grade and are of non-coking variety. At present, about 10 coal mines are being worked in this area. The Bhandar reserves are estimated at 10 crores and 80 lakh tons, while the Warora field reserves are roughly over 1 crore and 20 lakh tons. The reserves of the Rajura and Wani coal fields are of the order of 24 crore tons.

In Nagpur district, coal has been proved at Tekadi and Juni Kamptee. The exact reserves may be of the order of 30 crore tons. Areas between Kanhan and Saoner are likely to contain extensive deposits of coal. Mining operations have been undertaken at Kamptee. However, the present production is diverted exclusively to the Khaparkheda thermal power station.

Thus the total coal reserves in the Vidarbha region are of the order of 65 crore tons.

Limestone :—The Marathwada region has limited mineral resources, which consist chiefly of building stones, semi-precious stones, zeolites and material for lapidary industry. Limestone deposits have, however, been discovered south-west of Mohada in the Kinwat Taluka of Nanded district. The reserves are provisionally estimated at 6·60 lakh tons.

Limestone deposits are also known to occur in Ratnagiri district to the south-west of Phonda ghat and in the high hills of Hanumat ghats. Limestone patches occur right from Dabhol to Panvel, Malad to Bassein and Palghar to Dahanu.

In Nagpur Division, limestone deposits are located near Rajura in Yeotmal district and Warora in Chanda district. In Chanda district, limestone occurs a quarter of a mile north-west of Purkepar village, about four miles east of Nawargaon. It also occurs in Kondala village and at Mardha.

In Poona Division, limestone has been located at Kallur, Nandur, and Khanderawadi in Ahmednagar district. The reserves have been estimated to be only 10,000 tons. Recent surveys reveal good deposits of limestone in the Miraj taluka of Sangli district.

The distribution of some other ores are :—

Ilmenite : Ratnagiri District (between Ratnagiri and Jaygadh) ; estimate 20 lakh tons ; near Yerangal in Borivli Taluka and near Bassein in Thana.

Chromote : Ratnagiri District (Kankavali, Vadga) ; estimates 70,000 tons. Are worked.

Mica : Ratnagiri District ; 5,000 maunds a year could be worked.

Silica : Ratnagiri District ; estimate over two crore tons. Now worked. Yield 10,000 tons a year.

Felspar and quartz : Ratnagiri District (Kadwa-Pangharat ; also southern areas).

Ochres : Ratnagiri District (Savantwadi, Kudal, Vengurla).

EMPLOYEES' STATE INSURANCE SCHEME

The following particulars show the position as on 31st December 1960 in relation to the Greater Bombay and Vidarbha Region where the scheme is in force.

Total No. of employees : About 5,10,000.

The following particulars show the position as on 31st December 1960 in relation to Greater Bombay and the Talukas of Thana District which are linked with it.

Total No. of insured workers : 6,60,336.

Total number of panel doctors : 1,159 (218 Ayurvedic, 4 Unani and 937 allopathic).

Total attendance at the Insurance Medical Practioners' dispensaries during the year 38,26,61 (New cases 11,81,678, old cases 26,44,938).

Total number of general beds sanctioned : 500.

Total T.B. beds sanctioned : 500.

Number of diagnostic centres : 6 ; number of ambulances : 7.

Number of laboratory tests : 62,041 ; number of persons screened : 13,924.

Number of persons X-Rayed : 24,707.

Number of approved chemists : 103.

Number of costly drugs : 187.

The following particulars show the position as on 31st December 1960 in relation to Vidarbha.

In the eight districts here the scheme has so far been implemented in three towns : Nagpur, Akola and Hinganghat. Number of employees covered : 37,639.

Diagnostic and special treatment is provided at the Mayo Hospital and the Medical College Hospital, Nagpur.

General medical treatment is provided under the service system, that is, in the State Insurance Dispensaries.

The number of beds reserved in Nagpur : 70 (includes 25 T.B. and 10 maternity beds) ; in Akola 5, in Hinganghat 6.

In addition to the above five, five more T.B. beds are reserved in the T.B. Sanatorium at Buldhana.

The Offices concerned are :

1. Employees' State Insurance Corporation, Bombay Regional Office, Colaba Causeway, Bombay 5.
2. Administrative Medical Officer, the Employees' State Insurance Scheme, Maharashtra State, Indian Mercantile Chambers, Ballard Estate, Bombay 1.
3. Administrative Medical Officer, Employees' State Insurance Scheme, Vidarbha Region, Nagpur.

ELECTRIC POWER DEVELOPMENT

Maharashtra State is fortunate in having several power projects—both hydel and thermal-generating over 6,00,000 kW of electricity. The generation and consumption power in Maharashtra is very high, the per capita power generated being about 71·1 kwh in 1956 as compared with 27·1 kwh in the Indian Union as a whole.

As evident from the highly industrial Bombay-Poona area, the bulk of the power generated at present is in that region. Even so there has been a chronic power shortage in this region, where industries are fast growing. To meet this shortage, additional thermal units were installed at Trombay and Chola but the real solution to these problems is the fulfilment of the Koyna project, which is now under construction. This project will not only supply abundant power to the Bombay-Poona region, but will also supply power to south Maharashtra where industries are fast coming up. The Koyna Project is estimated to generate 6,30,000 kW of power on completion.

Below we give a brief account of some power systems in the State.

* On completion of Second Plan schemes in progress : 1,038,500 megawatts.

TATA PROJECTS

The greatest hydro-electric undertakings in the State are the three schemes developed and brought into operation by Tata Sons, Ltd., and continued under their management until 1929, when they were transferred to the management of the Tata Hydro-Electric Agencies, Ltd., in which Messrs. Tata Sons retain a majority interest. These undertakings are :—

(a) The Tata Hydro-Electric Power Supply Company, Ltd. Supply started in 1915.

(b) The Andhra Valley Power Supply Company, Ltd. Supply started in 1922.

(c) The Tata Power Company, Ltd. Supply started in 1927.

The three Hydro-Electric Companies are interconnected with the 188 MW Chola Steam Station of the Central Railway. Together they are operated as a Hydro-Thermal system under the co-ordinated control of the Hydro Companies.

The three Hydro Companies have constructed a modern Steam Thermal Station of 188 MW capacity at Trombay which is also interconnected to the system.

This station which consists at present of three 62,500 kW units was opened on 15th Dec. 1956. The total installed capacity of the Tata System is 462 M.W. and that of Tata Rly. System is 598 M.W.

The Tata Hydro-Electric System serves an area in Maharashtra State of more than 800 square miles.

It is one of the largest power systems in the country having a fixed capital expenditure in excess of Rs. 33 crores and an annual output representing more than one-sixth of the total electricity production of India.

Electric service is rendered to the textile mills and other industries of Bombay and the suburban areas, to local authorities, and, in bulk for retail distribution, to the electrical undertakings including the State Electricity Board, supplying Greater Bombay, Poona and ten other localities within the area.

The transmission network of the system consists of 582 circuit miles of 100,000-volt overhead lines and 9·4 miles of 100 KV gas filled underground cables and the distribution network of 159 circuit miles of 22,000-volt overhead as well as 109 miles of 22,000-volt and 126 miles of 6,600-volt underground cables. There are also 12 miles of 11,000 volts overhead and 20 miles of 6,600 volts overhead lines.

Substantial additions to the transmission and distribution network are expected to be made during the next few years.

The interconnected transmission lines of the Railway add another 272 circuit miles to form the combined Tata Hydro-Railway Grid.

A new Receiving Station at Carnac Bunder having an installed transformer capacity of 160 MVA was also brought into service in April 1957. This Receiving Station, which is feeding Southern Bombay, has greatly facilitated distribution of power in this area.

A further expansion of its capacity is under way which will increase the transformer capacity to 240 MVA during 1961.

For the year ending March 1960 the system demand was 442 MV including the Railways' own demand.

The sales by Tatas during 1959-60 was 1,939 million units and the purchase of Thermal Energy to supplement Hydro during the year was 54 million units.

Khopoli.—The hydraulic works of the Tata Hydro-Electric Power Supply Company are situated near Lonavla at the top of the Bhor Ghat. The monsoon rainfall is stored in three lakes, namely Lonavla, Walwan and Shirawta, from which it is conveyed in open masonry canals to the Forebay at Khandala and thence through steel pipes to the Power House at Khopoli at the foot of the Ghats, where the head at turbine nozzles is 1,726 feet or approximately 750 lb. per sq. inch. The capacity of the Power Station at Khopoli is 70,000 kW.

This scheme was formally opened by the Governor of Bombay* on the 8th of February 1915.

Bhivpuri.—Investigations in 1917-18 led to the discovery of a site on the Andhra River just to the north of the Tata Hydro-Electric Supply Company's lakes, where additional power could be developed.

These investigations resulted in the formation of the Andhra Valley Power Supply Co. and the construction of the schemes, the principal features of which consist of a reservoir formed by a dam about 190 feet high, across the Andhra River and a tunnel 8,700 feet long driven through solid trap rock to the scarp of the Ghats, from which the water is taken in steel pipes 4,600 feet long to the turbines in the generating station at Bhivpuri. The head of water at turbine nozzles is 1,743 feet or approximately 750 lb. per sq. inch.

The electrical energy is transmitted to Bombay over a transmission line 57·5 miles long for augmenting the supply from Khopoli.

The present capacity of this station is 72,000 kW.

Bhira.—The Tata Power Company's scheme on the Nila-Mula River to the south-east of Bombay was investigated and developed along lines similar to the Andhra Valley scheme and has an installed capacity of 132,000 kW.

The power is transmitted to Bombay over a transmission line 76 miles long and is used to augment the supply of the two earlier companies to mills, factories and towns.

The Trombay Thermal Power Station, the most modern of its kind in India, is situated on a 132-acre land on the south shore of Trombay Island, about seven miles north-east of Bombay. The station consists, at present, of three 62,500 kW units, and the layout permits expansion to an ultimate of four such units. The first two units burn refinery fuel only and unit no. three which was commissioned during 1960 is partly coal fired.

The plant is of semi-outdoor type, designed on the unit system basis with one boiler and one turbine per unit. The radiant type, water tube boilers at Trombay are designed to burn refinery waste gas, oil, and low-grade coal, and each of them is capable of generating steam at a rate of 600,000 lbs./hr. at 1,325 psig and 955°F. The steam from the boiler will be delivered at 1,250 psig and 950°F to a 22 stage, twin cylinder impulse turbine, which exhausts the steam into a single shell two pass condenser at 2½" Hg absolute. The steam in the condenser is cooled by means of sea water pumped from Bombay harbour through a 4,066 ft. long 72" diameter steel pipe which projects approximately 2,000 ft. into the sea from the low water line. The condensed steam is fed back to boiler at 410° F after passing through 5 feed-water heaters.

Each turbine drives a hydrogen cooled 13·8 KV, 50,000/62,500 kW generator, which is connected to the transmission grid through a 80,000 KVA, 13·8/100 KV transformer.

The station was opened on 15th Dec. 1956.

MAHARASHTRA ELECTRICITY BOARD

Position as on 31st March 1960 :

Total installed capacity ..	69,987·5 kW. Steam : 52,500·00 Hydro : 5,824·00 Diesel : 11,663·50
Total number of towns and villages supplied with electricity	533
Total length of Transmission lines 11 KV and above ..	(circuit Km. 4,262·04
Total number of consumers ..	79,548
Total electricity production in 1959-60 (million units) ..	326·00
Total sales in 1959-60 (million units)	265·00
Total expenditure on Electricity Schemes upto 1959-60 (Rs. lakhs)	225·00
Capital Assets on 31st March 1960 (Rs. lakhs)	1,994·00

Power Projects

Statement showing particulars about power projects in operation in Maharashtra as on March 31, 1960 :

Radhanagari-cum-E. I. Scheme : This has four power houses, (1) Radhanagari Power House. (2) Kolhapur Power House. (3) Vishrambaug Power House (4) Islampur Power House.

The scheme meets the power requirements of areas in Kolhapur, Sangli and Miraj. Installed capacity : 11,045 kW. Units generated : 28·92 min. Units sold : 23·04 min. No. of consumers : 9,690. Total length of transmission lines circuit : 462·5 Circuit Kilometers.

Bhatgar Scheme : Name of power house : Bhatgar. Existing Capacity : 1,024 KW. Units generated during 1959-60 : 3·20 million KWh. No. of Units sold during 1959-60 : 2·92 million KWh. No. of consumers : 1,012. Length of transmission lines : 86·9 circuit kilometers. Expected total capacity by end of 2nd Plan : 1,024 KW.

No. of towns and villages electrified : 5.

Vidarbha Grid Scheme : This has three power houses. (1) Khaperkheda Power House. Existing Capacity : 60,000 KW. Units generated during 1959-60 : 164·08 million KWh.

(2) Ballarshah Power House. Existing capacity: 22,500 KW. Units generated during 1959-60 : 109·64 million KWh.

(3) Paras Power House. Capacity under erection : 30,000 KW. Expected total capacity by end of 2nd Plan : 30,000 KW.

Units sold during 1959-60 : 222·78 mln. KWh. No. of consumers : 42,215. Length of transmission lines 11 kV and above : 3,459·9 circuit kilometers.

Minor Diesel Schemes unconnected to any Grid: There are 19 such schemes. Existing capacity: 5,416·5 KW. Units generated during 1959-60: 6·37 million KWh. Units sold (1959-60): 5·32 million KWh. No. of consumers: 12,724. Length of transmission Lines: 75·8 circuit kilometers. No. of towns and villages electrified: 23.

Minor schemes based on bulk purchase like Ulhasnagar, Pimpri-Talegaon, etc.: Units purchased (1959-60): 13·86 million KWh. Units sold (1959-60): 11·12 million KWh. No. of consumers: 13,907. Length of transmission Lines: 177-3 circuit kilometers.

NEW CONSTRUCTION

The construction of a new 30 MW Steam Station at Paras (near Akola) in Vidarbha area was in progress and was expected to be connected to the Vidarbha Grid in February 1961.

In the Western Maharashtra Region the construction of the 220 KV line from Koyna to Karad and 110 KV lines from Karad to Satara Road, Karad to Vishrambaug and Karad to Pandharpur for the distribution of power from the Koyna Power Station in Western Maharashtra are in progress and the works are so programmed as to commence supply to Satara Road, Karad and Vishrambaug areas simultaneously with the commissioning of the Koyna Power Station in December 1961.

In the Marathwada Region, erection of new diesel power stations at Vaijapur, Deglur and a few other places are in progress.

CHOLA, KOYNA

A brief note each on two other power schemes is in order.

To relieve power shortage in the Bombay-Poona area the power house of the Central Railway at Chola was extended by the installation of three units each with an installed capacity of 18,000 kW. The station was sold to the Central Railway on Feb. 1, 1958. The present capacity is 136,000 kW.

The second scheme is Koyna. It is the biggest scheme in Maharashtra and when complete will double the present installed capacity in the Bombay-Poona region.

The Koyna project provides for the use of the waters of the river Koyna—a tributary of the river Krishna—at Deshmukhwadi near Helwak in North Satara, about 150 miles south of Bombay, for the generation of hydro-electric power.

The entire scheme will be completed in three stages, and 6,30,000 kW of electricity ultimately produced.

The first stage involves the construction of a dam, about 208 ft. high with a storage capacity of 36,045 million c. ft., and a tunnel 21 ft. in diameter and 12,000 ft. long, which diverts the water westward to get a drop of about 1,570 ft.

The power house near Pophali will be located underground with a tail race tunnel 7,200 ft. long, discharging into Vasishti river.

In the first stage, four generating sets of 60,000 kW each will be constructed, with a provision for four additional units of about 75,000 kW in the second stage.

A block of 2,00,000 kW of power will be transmitted to Bombay over a double circuit 220 kV transmission line, and about 40,000 kW to Karad, Pandharpur, Sholapur, Vishrambagh and Satara Road area over 220,110,33 and 11 kV transmission lines. Other places to which power will be supplied are Lonand, Satara, Wai, Panchgani, Mahableshwar, Tasgaon, Kirloskarwadi.

About 60,000 kW of power is expected to be released about the end of 1961. This would be followed by an addition of 60,000 kW every six months to make a total supply of 240,000 kW for the first stage.

The work on the project commenced in January 1954, and has progressed considerably.

The first generating unit is expected to be commissioned and commercial supply started about end of 1961, and the other three units at an interval of 6 months each thereafter.

The total expenditure incurred on the project up to Oct. 1960 is Rs. 20·93 crores, of which Rs. 2·55 crores were spent during the First Plan period.

The first stage of the project will cost approximately Rs. 38·28 crores, including foreign exchange.

The provision for the project in the Second Plan was Rs. 29 crores.

The World Bank has granted a loan of 25 million dollars for the execution of the project. The loan is to be repaid over a period of 20 years starting with May 1965.

There is a separate Board called the Koyna Board which advises the Government. The project is executed by the Irrigation and Power Dept. of the Govt. of Maharashtra.

It is calculated that about 25,000 people living in 80 villages would be affected. By the end of Dec. 1960 about 13,000 had been rehabilitated.

HOUSING

Housing schemes are coordinated by the Urban Development and Public Health Department of the Government. The actual building work and ancillary functions are discharged by the Housing Boards. Finance comes partly from the Government of India and partly from the State.

There are two Boards now, the Maharashtra Housing Board for the Maharashtra area and the Vidarbha Housing Board for Vidarbha. In Marathwada housing is undertaken departmentally.

The following housing schemes are now in operation:—

(1) Subsidised Industrial Housing Scheme; (2) Low Income Group Housing Scheme; (3) Slum Clearance Scheme: (4) Sweepers Housing Scheme; and (5) Other schemes.

Subsidised Industrial Housing Scheme: Till the end of the year 1959-60 progress made under the scheme is as follows:—Tenements completed 18,509; Tenements in progress 2,468; Expenditure incurred Rs. 773·24 lakhs.

Besides, financial assistance is given to co-operative housing societies and even to private employers. Assistance given to Cooperative Societies is 65 per cent loan and 25 per cent subsidy and assistance given to employers is 50 per cent loan and 25 per cent subsidy of the total approved cost. During 1959-60 an amount of Rs. 2,22,000 had been disbursed for construction of 159 tenements under the "Co-operative Sector" and an amount of Rs. 62·54 lakhs had been sanctioned for construction of 1,356 tenements under "Employers' Sector," by the State Govt.

Low Income Group Housing Scheme: The scheme is intended to relieve the housing shortage in the case of persons whose total annual income does not exceed Rs. 6,000. The loan is granted upto 80 per cent. of the estimated cost of construction of a tenement subject to the maximum limit of Rs. 8,000 at rates varying from 4½ to 5½ per cent. per annum. It is repayable by half yearly or annual equated instalments within a period of 10, 20 or 30 years. The person repaying the loan instalments regularly gets a rebate of ½ per cent.

Loans on the above mentioned terms are granted to individuals, cooperative housing societies, local bodies, like municipalities, charitable institutions, etc.

Authorities sanctioning the loans under the scheme are the Urban Development and Public Health Department, Collectors, Registrar of of Cooperative Societies, the Maharashtra Co-operative Housing Finance Society Limited, Vidarbha Housing Board.

For the purpose of individuals who are not in a position to obtain house building sites and construct houses with loans obtained from the Government under this scheme, the Maharashtra Housing Board has been given a loan to construct houses and sell these houses on a hire purchase basis.

The State Governments are authorised to construct houses for rental purposes on no-profit-no-loss basis. Accordingly a programme for the construction of houses in the bigger cities by the Maharashtra Housing Board has been formulated by Government and 546 tenements have now been constructed in Bombay, and a further 568 tenements in Bombay, and 214 at Poona, are under construction.

Progress made under the scheme till the end of 1958-59 is as follows:—Tenements completed: 4,000; Expenditure incurred: Rs. 305·16 lakhs.

By the end of 1960, 17,520 tenements were constructed for industrial workers and about 5,000 tenements were constructed under low income housing schemes.

In addition 184·35 acres of land have been developed in Maharashtra.

Slum Clearance Scheme: Construction of tenements is undertaken through local bodies, the Nagpur Improvement Trust and the Maharashtra Housing Board. Slum Clearance projects have been sanctioned in Bombay, Nagpur, Poona and Ahmednagar. The Government of India have, however, now decided that any further projects should be sanctioned in the Greater Bombay only (unless special justification exists for taking up a project in other places). Government of India have also changed the financial assistance from 50 per cent loan and 25 per cent subsidy to 37½ per cent loan and 37½ per cent subsidy in the case of projects undertaken in Greater Bombay. The balance is to be borne by the State Governments and local bodies.

Projects worth Rs. 527·73 lakhs in Maharashtra State have been sanctioned. While sanctioning the above prjects, the Bombay Government* evolved a novel scheme called Hutment Dwellers Housing Scheme within the overall framework of the Slum Clearance Scheme. The Bombay Government* sanctioned a project for the construction of 5,966 tenements in Greater Bombay to be undertaken by the Bombay Housing Board at an estimated cost of Rs. 208 lakhs. The tenements when ready will be allotted to the hutment dwellers on a monthly rent of Rs. 13 per month per tenement.

Progress so far made under the scheme is as follows:—Approved cost of projects sanctioned: Rs. 527·73 lakhs; No. of tenements and plots sanctioned: 12,096 tenements and 1,228 plots.

Sweepers Housing Scheme: The State Govt. has formulated a scheme to provide residential houses to the sweeper employees of various local bodies in the State. Financial assistance in the form of loan and subsidy is available to the various agencies mentioned in the above scheme for the construction of houses, for the sweeper employees of the local boards, the loan amount being two-thirds and subsidy upto one-third respectively of the approved cost depending upon the constructing agency concerned.

Housing for displaced persons : The details of construction of tenements, shops and school buildings for displaced persons undertaken by Government are as under :—Residential Units—Completed : 29,025 ; Under construction 288 ; Shops completed : 1,902 ; Completed Schools: 10 ; Schools under Construction : 2.

Other schemes : Besides the Slum Clearance Scheme of the Government of India, loans and subsidies are also given to local bodies for their slum clearance projects not covered by the above-mentioned Government of India Scheme, for constructing houses in flood affected areas within their jurisdiction.

Loans are given to Bombay Housing Board for the construction of tenements in Bombay City for housing persons dishoused as a result of natural calamities such as house collapse, fire, explosion etc.

Loans and subsidies are also advanced to Backward Class cooperative housing societies and the Backward Class cooperative housing scheme.

Projects for acquisition and development of land estimated to cost Rs. 290 lakhs framed by the Maharashtra Housing Board have been sanctioned under the Land Acquisition and Development Scheme recently sponsored by the Government of India. The land so developed is to be made available for construction of houses on no-profit-no-loss basis.

It was also proposed to undertake construction of 336 tenements at an estimated cost of Rs. 55 lakhs in the Second Five Year Plan on hire purchase and rental deposit basis for middle income group people, i.e. whose annual income is between Rs. 6,000 and Rs. 12,000 in Bombay.

Bombay City :

In Bombay city itself it might be pointed out there are about 140 slum areas housing nearly half the city's population.

There are about 200,000 single-room tenements which house about 1,200,000 persons.

About 20,000 to 55,000 residential buildings are over 60 years old. About 9,000 of these accommodate as many as 500,000 persons.

The accommodation is enough for about 28-lakh persons. There is thus a shortage of 3 lakh tenements. The minimum cost of building these is about Rs. 180 crores.

ROAD TRANSPORT

The position of Maharashtra State Transport for 1959-60 is given below. The first figure represents Bombay State Road Transport Corporation, the second, Provincial Transport Services, Nagpur and the third Marathwada State Transport respectively.

No. of passengers carried (in lakhs): 11,73·02; 158·32 and 116·73 ; Capital invested (Rs. lakhs): 11,00·00 ; 1,63·85 and 1,82·39 ; Total gross revenue (Rs. lakhs): N.A. ; 89·15 and 1,28·10 ; Total revenue expenditure (Rs. lakhs) N.A. ; 78·30 and 86·36.

The operational data of Maharashtra State and Road Transport Corporation as on March 31, 1960 :

No. of passenger vehicles : 1,870 ; no. of goods vehicles : 163 ; no. of routes operated : 1,356 ; route mileage : 43,148 ; major workshops : one Central, eight divisional and 69 depot and sub-depot workshops ; No. of persons employed : 13,353 ; No. of nationalised city bus services : nine ; No. of municipalised city bus services : three ; rate per passenger mile : 5 nP ; total bus miles operated : 561,09,000 ; total no. of passengers carried : 11,73,02,000 ; no. of bus stations : 24 ; Temporary stations 106 ; no. of refreshment rooms : 133 ; no. of cloak rooms : 25 ; Pick-up stands : 100.

The operational data of Nagpur and Marathwada transport understakings as on March 31, 1960 are given below. The first figure for Nagpur and second for Marathwada respectively.

Capital invested (tentative): Rs. 163·85 lakhs; Rs. 182·39 lakhs ; No. of passenger vehicles owned : 256 ; 290 ; No. of goods vehicles owned: 5; 11.

No. of nationalised City Bus Services : 1 ; 2 ; Rate per passenger mile : Nagpur (based on mileage slab system) between 3 nP. and 5 nP. ; 5 nP. ; Route mileage operated : 2,821 ; 6,270 ; Total no. of routes operated : 94 ; 121 ; No. of persons employed : 1,870 ; 1,240 ; Total gross mileage operated : 77·64 lakhs ; 81·86 lakhs ; No. of passengers : 158·32 lakhs ; 116·73 lakhs ; Total revenue : Rs. 89·15 lakhs ; Rs. 128·10 lakhs ; cost on staff per bus mile in nP. 33·47 ; 22·22 ; Expenses per bus mile in nP. 101·24 ; 107·37 ; Bus Stations (Pucca) : 3 ; 1 ; Bus stations (temporary) : 8 ; 6 Sheds : 5 ; 40 ; Canteens : 10 ; 6 ; Waiting rooms : 24 ; 2 ; Water arrangements : 20 ; 5.

A single road transport corporation for the entire State, known as the Maharashtra State Road Transport Corporation, came into existence from July 1, 1961.

The Provincial Transport Services of Vidarbha and the State Transport of Marathwada have been merged with the Bombay State Road Transport Corporation to form a unified body for Maharashtra.

Mr. R. G. Saraiya, Chairman of the B.S.R.T. Corporation, is the Chairman of the enlarged organisation.

Third Five Year Plan : The total outlay will be of the order of Rs. 515 crores. The size of the Plan which was finalised by the State Cabinet in June was Rs. 390 crores. But with the complimentary outlays by other agencies, totalling Rs. 125 crores, the total investment on Plan projects would amount to Rs. 515 crores. The outlay of Rs. 390 crores is 90·79 per cent more than during the Second Plan and the per capita outlay works out at Rs. 98·72.

State-level Schemes : Of the Rs. 390 crores, Rs. 207·54 are allocated to Western Maharashtra, Rs. 86·63 crores to Vidarbha and Rs. 61·26 crores to Marathwada, while the remaining Rs. 35 crores represent the outlay on State-level schemes, common to the three regions. The per capita outlay in western Maharashtra, Vidarbha and Marathwada works out at Rs. 86·46, Rs. 96·34 and Rs. 97·33 respectively.

Besides completing the projects undertaken under the Second Plan with an estimated expenditure of Rs. 50·34 crores, the following new major irrigation projects are proposed to be undertaken during the IIIrd Plan.

Western Maharashtra : The Karanjwan Project Rs. 196 lakhs; Upper Tapi popularly known as Hatnoor Project (first stage) Rs. 50 lakhs; Kol River Project Rs. 50 lakhs; Koyna Irrigation Project (second stage) Rs. 275 lakhs; Bhima Lift Irrigation Project (first stage) Rs. 78 lakhs; Kukdi Project (first stage) Rs. 25 lakhs; Khadakvasla Project (second stage) Rs. 25 lakhs; Panzra Project Rs. 25 lakhs; Tulsi Project Rs. 25 lakhs.

Vidarbha : Irrigation Projects : Chandrabhaga Rs. 60 lakhs; Poorna-Aruna Rs. 60 lakhs; Poos Rs. 137 lakhs; Upper Wardha Rs. 25 lakhs.

Marathwada : Irrigation Projects : Kayadhu Rs. 20 lakhs; Manar (second stage) Rs. 40 lakhs; Jayakwadi (first stage) Rs. one crore. Over Rs. 300 lakhs would be spent on education alone.

GREATER BOMBAY

The area of Greater Bombay would be about 176 sq. miles and the population about 4,146,491 (1961 Census).

The area of Bombay City is 26 sq. miles and the area of the Bombay Suburban District is about 150 sq. miles. For population see under "Late particulars".

The northern boundary runs from the north of Dahisar village in the west, in the centre between the mile stones 21 and 22 on the Agra Road, and in the east north of Mulund Municipality.

The municipal area of Greater Bombay described above is also the area covered by Bombay City and the Bombay Suburban District from the point of view of revenue division.

The Collector for Bombay City is also the Collector for the Bombay Suburban District. Bombay City Collectorate is directly under the Government and is governed in accordance with the provisions of the Bombay City Land Revenue Act of 1876.

The Bombay Suburban District has besides the Collector, one Additional Collector, one District Deputy Collector, one Additional District Deputy Collector and two Mamlatdars one for each of the Talukas Andheri (also called South Salsette) with headquarters in Andheri, and Borivli with headquarters in Borivli. The headquarters of the Additional District Deputy Collector is at Andheri. There is also an Additional Mamlatdar (Tenancy) for the Borivli Taluka with his headquarters at Borivli.

There are 31 Presidency Magistrates Courts, ten Police Divisions and 35 (including 5 Suburban) police stations.

AGRICULTURE

In Bombay Island proper though about 8 sq. miles of unbuilt and undeveloped land is available there is practically no agriculture. Vegetables, flowers and fruit are grown in private gardens and Wadis but on a very negligible scale. In the newly merged areas and the adjoining suburbs, however, extensive paddy cultivation is carried on. Vegetables and fruit are also grown especially during the monsoon. The produce is largely marketed in Bombay.

COMMERCE AND INDUSTRY

Commercially and industrially Bombay is the second, if not the first City in India. It is the principal centre of the cotton textile industry (63 cotton mills with 61,694 looms and 3,154,435 spindles). Its share in looms and spindles is 30·85 per cent and 23·04 per cent respectively of the total in the country. There are over 330 textile factories including silk, woollen and hosiery; over 800 engineering undertakings; over 200 establishments manufacturing articles of food, drink and tobacco; over 220 establishments producing chemicals, etc.; 50 hides and skins processing concerns, and over 2,500 factories of a miscellaneous character.

On the total it is reckoned that there are 1,350 factories employing under 20 workers; 1,000 factories employing between 20 and 50 workers; about 750 employing between 50 and 500; and 116 employing between 500 and 5,000 workers.

Of the population it is reckoned that 260,000 are in public employment; 445,000 in organized industry; 340,000 in commercial business; 150,000 in establishments that come under the Shops and Establishment Acts.

After Calcutta, Bombay is the biggest financial centre in India. The Stock Exchange, Bullion Exchange and Cotton Exchange regulate trading in stocks and shares of a wide circle of industrial undertakings. The Reserve Bank of India, the central banking and currency authority has its headquarters in Bombay. Thirty-two Indian Scheduled Banks operate in Bombay. Of these five have their headquarters here. There are 15 foreign Scheduled Banks. Of these seven have their principal offices located in Bombay. The head office of the Life Insurance Corporation of India is also located in Bombay.

Being the best natural harbour in India, the trade carried through Bombay is about 46 per cent of the total trade of India. The principal items of import are bricks, cement, sand, etc.; China clay; coal; cotton; glassware; grain; hardware; iron and steel; kerosene; fuel oil; motor vehicle parts; machinery; boilers and railway materials; oilman stores; oils; vegetables, etc.; paper; piece-goods; petrol; sugar; timber; twist and yarn; Government and naval and military stores.

The main exports are coal; cotton; flour; groundnuts; hemp; hides and skins; kerosene and fuel oils; manganese ore; myrobalans; oil-cake; piece-goods; seeds; spices; sugar; wool packages; twist and yarn; Government and naval and military stores.

The total returns to the Central Government from Greater Bombay in customs revenue is about 46 per cent of the total revenue from the seaborne trade of India. The income-tax return to the Central Government from Greater Bombay is about 30 per cent of the total income from the country. The Corporation Tax amounts to about 20 per cent of the total income from this source.

COMMUNICATIONS

From the communications point of view Bombay holds a unique position. There are numerous air routes connecting Bombay with the rest of the country, and it is also directly linked with foreign countries aerially. The head offices of two chief railway systems, the Central and Western Railways are in Bombay which is rail linked with Calcutta, Delhi, Nagpur and Madras. It is the second biggest port and the chief sea communications centre of India. Greater Bombay's transport requirements are met by the local services of the two railways, Central and Western, besides the tram and bus services of the municipalised Bombay Electric Supply and Transport Undertaking.

HOUSING

Statement showing the number of tenements constructed by the Housing Board from April 1, 1947 to March 31, 1961 under the respective groups: Old industrial housing scheme 2,536; old low income group housing scheme 2,075; military hutments 1,575; subsidised industrial housing scheme 14,062; rehabilitation works 3,632; new low income group housing scheme 1,740; slum clearance scheme 3,000; land and development 578 acres. Total expenditure incurred during the above period for the whole State Rs. 2,212·39 lakhs.

Total number of households: 568,862.

22,695 households were examined in a sample survey. The number of persons living in them was 107,282—66,530 males and 40,752 were females.

Out of these households, the number of small households (3 members and less) was 9,110, and the number of persons living in them was 18,518; of medium households (4 to 6 members) 8,238, and the number of persons 39,699; of large households (7 to 9 members) 3,656, and the number of persons 28,454; of very large households (10 and above) 1,691, and the number of persons 20,611.

Beggars: It is reckoned that there are about 15,000 beggars in Greater Bombay. Money spent on charity is about Rs. 36 lakhs a year. Government runs about 15 homes under the Beggar Act with accommodation for about 3,000 inmates. Actually the number living at any time is much more than that. There are eight private institutions with accommodation for about 600 beggars.

MEDIUM AND MINOR PROJECTS

The medium and minor irrigation projects also play a very important part in the development of the State.

In the First Plan, 16 medium projects were started. Another 16 projects had been taken up in the Second Plan. Rs. 38 crores were provided in the Second Plan for these spill-over and new works. It is expected that when completed and fully developed, these schemes will bring an additional area of 12,34,691 acres under irrigation. In the First Plan, 336 minor irrigation works were completed at a cost of Rs. 81·92 lakhs. These works have brought an additional area of 64,700 acres under irrigation. In the Second Plan, as many as 132 minor irrigation works including a few spill-over projects from the First Plan have been completed creating an additional irrigation potential of 84,020 acres. By the end of Second Plan it was expected an additional irrigation potential of 3,13,000 acres would be created.

Schemes for the expansion of well irrigation, supply of rahats, oil engines and pumping sets, electrical motors have been included in the Plan. The schemes for the grant of taccavi loans in force in different parts of the State were integrated into one unified scheme, which was introduced in 1957-58. Under this scheme loans up to the maximum of Rs. 2,500 are granted for construction of a new well and Rs. 1,000 for repairs to an old one. In addition to the loans advanced by Government, land mortgage banks also give loans for this purpose.

The municipal government of Greater Bombay vests in the Municipal Corporation, composed of 131 representatives elected on adult franchise.

The Corporation has four statutory committees, the Standing Committee, the Improvements Committee, the Bombay Electric Supply and Transport Committee and the Education Committee.

The executive power in regard to general municipal administration vests in the Municipal Commissioner. The administration of the B.E.S.T. Undertaking, however, vests in the General Manager, B.E.S.T.

The Corporation is required to meet at least once a month. In actual practice it meets twice a week and oftener if necessary. Meetings of the Corporation are presided over by the Mayor who also convenes the meetings. The Mayor's term of office is one year and he is elected at the first meeting in April.

COMMITTEES

The Standing Committee consists of 17 members, 16 of whom are elected by the Corporation. The Chairman of the Education Committee serves as an additional member. Half the members retire at the end of each year. The Chairman is elected by the members of the Committee at the first meeting in April every year. The main functions of the Committee are to sanction contracts, to scrutinize the budget and establishment schedule, frame service regulations, sanction investment of funds, prescribe the form of keeping accounts and conduct their scrutiny. The Committee meets once every week, usually on Wednesdays.

The Improvements Committee consists of 16 Councillors, all of whom are elected by the Corporation. The Chairman is elected for a term of one year, while half the Councillors retire at the end of each year. The Committee is charged with all improvement and development schemes, slum clearance, providing accommodation for the poorer classes and purchase and sale of land which does not exceed Rs. 50,000. The Committee usually meets once a fortnight on Tuesdays.

The Bombay Electric Supply and Transport Committee consists of nine members, one of whom is the Chairman of the Standing Committee (ex-Officio), while the remaining members are appointed by the Corporation from among persons who (may or may not be members of the Corporation) have experience of administration, transport or electric supply, or of engineering, industrial, commercial, financial or labour matters. The Chairman is appointed by the members for a period of one year, while half the members retire every second year. The Committee usually meets every Friday ; and the Chairman and members are paid a fee for attending the meetings. The Committee exercises general control over the electric supply and transport undertakings of the Corporation.

The Education Committee consists of 16 members, of whom 12 are Councillors and 4 non-Councillors of whom two have to be women. The Chairman of the Committee is elected for a period of one year, while half the members retire at the end of each year. The Committee usually meets on the first Friday of every month. The main function of the Committee is to administer the Primary Education Act or any other law for that purpose for the time being in force.

Besides the Statutory Committees mentioned above there are four Special Committees appointed by the Corporation. These are : 1. the Works Committee, 2. the Medical Relief and Public Health Committee, 3. Markets and Gardens Committee, and 4. Law, Revenue and General Purposes Committee. Each Committee consists of 24 Councillors appointed by the Corporation after each general election. There are a Chairman and a Deputy Chairman for each Committee who are elected by the members and who hold office for one year. All questions that are due to go before the Corporation must first be considered by the appropriate Special Committee which then makes its recommendations to the Corporation.

Then there are a number of ad hoc Consultative Committees appointed from year to year, to which the Corporation can refer any matter for consideration and report.

The four most important officers of the Corporation are the Municipal Commissioner, the General Manager of the Undertaking, the Municipal Secretary and the Municipal Chief Auditor.

The Municipal Commissioner is at the head of the Executive. He is usually a senior member of the Indian Civil Service and is appointed by the Government for a renewable period of three years. He can be removed by the Corporation by a five-eighths vote. If however Government desire to revert him to their service the consent of the Corporation is necessary. He attends meetings of the Corporation and Committees but does not vote. He is assisted by three Deputy Municipal Commissioners with one Assistant Commissioner.

The General Manager of the Undertaking is in the same position to the Electric Supply and Transport Undertaking as the Municipal Commissioner is to the Corporation as a whole He is appointed by the Corporation subject to the approval of the State Government for a renewable period of not more than five years at a time. He can be removed by the votes of not less than half the total number of Councillors. He attends the meetings of the B.E.S.T. Committee and takes part in the discussions but does not vote.

The Municipal Secretary is in charge of all the secretarial work pertaining to the Corporation and its Committees. He is independent of the Commissioner and is directly under the Standing Committee.

The Municipal Chief Auditor is also independent of the Commissioner and is directly under the Standing Committee.

EDUCATION AND MEDICAL RELIEF

Primary education is free and compulsory in the Lower Primary standards of Municipal Schools all over Greater Bombay. It is the special responsibility of the Corporation.

But only about 85 children out of 100 receive an education.

From 1958 the benefit of free education has been extended to the upper primary classes too.

There were on March 31, 1960, 569 Municipal Schools and 110 Classes conducted by the Education Committee and 410 Aided or Recognised Schools to which the Corporation makes grants or gives recognition. The total number of pupils in all Primary Schools was 4,28,780 out of whom 3,16,105 were in Municipal Schools and the rest in other Schools. The Corporation spent Rs. 2,25,41,756·68 on primary education in 1959-60. Of this Government contributed Rs. 33,12,625. There was a net increase of 21,473 pupils in Municipal Schools during the year.

CC-0. Agamnigam Digital Presevation Foundation, Chandigarh

To meet the growing expenditure on primary education the Corporation decided for the first time in 1958 to levy an education cess at 1½ per cent. The receipts from the levy of Education Cess for the year amounted to Rs. 3,846,134.

The Municipality maintains the Victoria and Albert Museum at Victoria Gardens and 20 libraries.

Medical Relief: The Municipality runs one large hospital for infectious diseases (except tuberculosis, veneral disease and leprosy) at Arthur Road and three other large general hospitals in the City proper (K.E.M. ; Nair and the Lokamanya Tilak Hospital, previously known as the Sion Hospital) and a group of hospitals for the treatment of tuberculosis at Sewri, an isolation centre at Dadar and four clinics. Altogether 746 beds are reserved for T.B. patients. In the Suburbs there are four general hospitals and 1 T.B. Clinic and 200 beds reserved for T.B. patients. Medical treatment is administered also through 44 general dispensaries, 2 Ayurvedic dispensaries, 6 women's and Childrens' dispensaries, 6 Mobile Hospital Units, one eye hospital and dispensary at Kamatipura and 11 Maternity Homes. Anti-rabic treatment is given free of charge at the K.E.M., Nair and Lokamanya hospitals as well as the Bhabha Hospital at Bandra and the Municipal General Hospital at Ghatkopar (at Rajawadi).

WATER SUPPLY

The water supply of the City is drawn from four lakes: Tansa Vaitarna, Vihar and Tulsi. The Tansa Lake combined with Vaitarna has a maximum supply capacity of 210 million gallons per day and is the main source of water supply. It is situated about 66 miles north-east of Bombay. The Vihar Lake can supply 20 million gallons a day exclusively to the north-east part of the City and also partly to Chembur and Kurla. It is situated about 18 miles north of Bombay. The Tulsi Lake which is to the north-west of Vihar Lake supplies 3 million gallons a day.

Under Section 140 of the Bombay Municipal Corporation Act the Corporation can levy water tax on buildings, lands and premises in the City. The tax is fixed as a certain percentage of the rateable value of the building, land or premises. The rate in 1958 was 3¾ per cent which has been increased to 4½ per cent. Under Section 169 the water supplied can also be charged on meter measurement and at the rates prescribed from time to time by the Standing Committee. Water tax is the first charge on a property under Section 141, and can be recovered from the owner by distress (Sections 203, 204) and is also recoverable from tenants by authorizing them to make payments from their rents (Section 209). The supply of water to any premises can be cut off in default of payment of water tax or any sum due for water or hire of meter or expenses of work done (Section 279(1)(a)). Copies of Water Charges Rules can be had from the Public Relations Department on payment of a sum of 50 nP. per copy.

The obligatory duty of the Corporation to supply an adequate quantity of water relates to the provision of supply only up to the boundary of the premises, as distinguished from the distribution of water within the premises. Any premises can be served by means of one communication pipe, the size of which depends upon the quantity of water needed in the premises. The owner can have separate connections to each floor provided he pays the cost of all the connections but one.

If the Municipal Commissioner finds that any premises are not provided with an adequate supply of pure water he has the power under Section 271(2) to compel the person who pays the property tax to obtain an adequate supply from Municipal Water Works and carry out all such works as is necessary for a proper distribution of water.

No one except a licensed plumber can undertake work on water-pipes and fittings and no person can allow any such work to be done by anyone except a licensed plumber.

For purposes of distribution Bombay is divided into 3 parts, called North Division, South Division and Central Division. Broadly speaking, the South Division consists of the areas of Clerk Road, Hornby Vellard up to Jacob Circle, Lamington Road, part of Grant Road, Kika Street, Abdul Rehman Street and Carnac Road up to the Victoria Dock in the north, and on the west coast along Back Bay, Walkeshwar, Nepean Sea Road and Warden Road up to Clerk Road Junction—this Division is served by the Malabar Hill Reservoir.

Central Control Division (at Babula Tank) consists of the localities of Kalachowki Road, Reay Road, Coal Bunder in the north, on the eastern coast up to Carnac Road, Abdul Rehman Street, Kika Road, Falkland Road and part of Grant Road up to Lamington Road in the south, in the west Lamington Road and Arthur Road and finally some areas of Dongri and Mandvi and Mazagon. The whole of this Division is supplied from the Bhandarwada Hill Reservoir. This division, as the name implies, controls the supply and distribution of water right from the lakes upto the distributing mains. The North Division, that is the north of the Island is served directly from the Trunk mains as they enter the City.

The amalgamated areas of the former Bombay Suburban District are divided into eight wards for purposes of water supply: H, K, L, M, N P, R and T, wards with three Assistant Engineers in charge of distribution and maintenance, one looking after H and K wards and the other after L, M, N and T wards and the third in charge of P and R wards. The supply is throughout metered.

Total water supplied to Greater Bombay per day : almost 195 mln. gallons.

The Tansa supply is chlorinated at the Chlorination Plants of Powai and Ghatkopar, while the Vihar supply is sterilized at Powai.

There is regular bacteriological and chemical analysis of water carried out by the Municipal Analyst.

PUBLIC HEALTH DEPARTMENT

The Public Health activities are carried on under the direct control and supervision of the Executive Health Officer. The Department is divided into several branches such as environmental sanitation, food sanitation, vital statistics, prevention and control of communicable diseases, maternity and child hygiene, medical relief and health propaganda.

Environmental sanitation comprises inspection and supervision of premises, provision of public sanitary conveniences, sanitary control over factories, licensable trades, overcrowding.

The veterinary staff inspects the stables in the city and are also in charge of the bullock hospital and segregation sheds in Mahalaxmi.

For purposes of sanitation, registration and vital statistics the city is divided into five divisions, each division being under the charge of an Assistant Health Officer who is directly responsible to the Executive Health Officer.

For the hygienic control of foodstuffs including milk trade there are Milk Sub-Inspectors and Sanitary Inspectors.

For pest control there is an Insecticide Branch.

School Health Work is limited to Municipal Schools only and is under a Medical Officer. Children found to have defects are taken for treatment in school buses to the school clinic at K.E.M. Hospital. Dental care is given at the Dental Clinic at the Bai Yamunabai L. Nair Hospital. Undernourished children in municipal schools are given free milk and snacks on working days.

The Public Health Laboratory which is under the charge of a Municipal Analyst conducts routine and special examinations of water, sewage, food, urine, blood and sputa of patients at Municipal Institutions. There is also a Health Museum maintained for the education of citizens.

The Conservancy Branch is under the City Engineer, who is assisted by a Public Health Engineer. Under him are Supervisors, Senior Overseers, Junior Overseers, Depot attendants, etc.

Conservancy includes cleansing of streets, etc., removal and disposal of refuse, destruction of rats and dogs, veterinary service, removal of carcasses, disinfection, ambulance and so on.

The Veterinary staff is under a Senior Veterinary Inspector, who has a number of Junior Inspectors and qualified veterinary surgeons.

Medical Relief is given at the following hospitals: K.E.M., Nair Lokamanya Tilak Hospital, R.P.T.B. and Arthur Road, at 52 Municipal Free Dispensaries, 6 Mobile Hospital Units and one Eye Dispensary and Hospital.

Clinic at 254, Bellasis Road and leprosy cases at the Acworth Leprosy Home Clinic at Wadala. Of the 52 Municipal Dispensaries, two give Ayurvedic treatment.

WELFARE WORK

To stimulate civic awareness and promote closer contact with the public, the Corporation has been running an illustrated English monthly called 'The Bombay Civic Journal' from March 1954. It deals with the activities and problems not only of the Bombay Municipality, but also of other local bodies all over the country and seeks to foster 'an objective discussion of civic issues and the larger questions relating to local self-government from the national angle'.

Editor, Mrs. L. Ugranker.

Another new development has been the starting of a Public Relations Department in February 1956. This department, besides doing educative publicity through films, posters, pamphlets, press notes, etc., has also been issuing useful booklets for the guidance of citizens.

The Corporation has been a pioneer in many spheres of civic activity. It was the first in the country to experiment with adult franchise, introduce free compulsory education at the primary stage, extended in 1958 to the upper primary classes, to own and administer urban transport and electric supply, to undertake trading, supply free milk and snacks to under-nourished school children, and to promote family planning.

Other notable activities of the Corporation have been the institution of a permanent Mayor's Fund for the relief of distress, building of a dormitory for the homeless in the City, starting of physiotherapy and occupational therapy schools and centres, and several new ventures in medical relief, education and research; conduct of two medical colleges and a dental college, running of a general museum, the creation of a family health centre and a health museum, and the running of a regular monthly publication, 'The Bombay Civic Journal', for publicising the activities of the Corporation and of other civic bodies and for promoting discussion of civic issues.

Other activities include the production of films for health education, the introduction of various modern devices for traffic movement, starting of a unit for research in primary education, the opening of a municipal bank, the building of an open-air theatre for the recreation of citizens, holding of civic exhibitions, organisation of Health and Cleanliness Weeks, conducting of seminars, establishment of an electric crematorium, construction of subways and the starting of a department of preventive and social medicine at the Topiwala National Medical College and a convalescent home at the K.E.M. Hospital and maintenance of a swimming pool.

A vast new five-storied structure, designed to accommodate the numerous scattered departments of the Corporation, was built by the side of the old head office and declared open on February 5, 1958.

The City Engineer's, the Special Engineer's and the Hydraulic Engineer's departments are all now housed in the new building.

The new building has lounges, party rooms and committee rooms for Councillors and also accommodates the Estate Agent and Land Manager's Department, the Public Health and Public Relations Departments, the Municipal Secretary's office, the Election and Town Duty Dept., the Shops and Establishment Dept., Licence Dept., Conservancy Branch, Labour Dept. and the Civic Journal Dept.

The Corporation, however, continues to meet in the Corporation Hall in the old building.

The administration of the suburbs was put under a Deputy Commissioner with offices in Bandra.

Budget, 1961-62 (Estimates)

Here are a few salient features of the Budget for the Suburbs, (1961-62) as presented to the Corporation :

Estimated Opening Balance on April 1, 1960	Rs. 17·51	lakhs
Income on present basis of taxation	„ 299·61	„
Expenditure	„ 306·25	„
Deficit	„ 6·64	„
Closing Balance	„ 10·87	„

Revenue Account 1961-62 :

The estimates of income and expenditure for 1961-62 disclose a deficit of Rs.26,88,000 despite which substantial provisions have been made in the budget for malaria eradication programme, medicines and drugs for hospitals and dispensaries, ambulance service, removal of refuse and conservancy, repair and maintenance of roads and storm-water drains, new works and special repairs.

Loan Works :

The Loan Works programme for the year comprises the completion of works in progress and new works necessary in connection with water supply, roads, drainage and village amenities. The total amount provided for expenditure is Rs. 3,08,24,000 out of which Rs. 2,59,67,000 are for works in progress and Rs. 48,57,000 for new works. The more important of the new works proposed is the construction of four markets at an aggregate cost of Rs. 13,00,000, construction of an overbridge on the Central Railway at Anik Village (Trombay) over oil Refinery siding land, Govandi, Sion, Mankhurd Line for Wadala Ghatkopar Road.

At the time of the merger of the Suburban areas in 1950, a grant equal to one third of the expenditure incurred on the extension and improvement of (a) water supply (b) Sewerage (c) Surface drainage, subject to a maximum aggregate grant of Rs. 90 lakhs spread over a period of 10 years ending 1959-60, was sanctioned by Government on June 26, 1950. Against this grant, the actual amount drawn upto March 1960 was Rs. 62,00,000 leaving an amount of Rs. 28,00,000 to be drawn in 1960-61.

According to the existing State orders no grant will be receivable from Government in respect of expenditure to be incurred on such works from the year 1960-61 onwards. The Corporation being aware that several areas in the Suburbs are not yet provided with adequate water supply and sewerage facilities and that the progressive expenditure on such works will be very heavy has made a representation to the Government for the continuation of a similar grant for a further period of at least 10 years. The decision from Government is awaited.

* In the case of some associations, besides the title and the address a short note is added about their aims, etc. This is generally done where the aims, activities, organization are not immediately obvious from the title. Also, when an association appears for the first time in our book a note is generally added. The addition of a note is not necessarily an indication of the relative importance of the association, that is, in relation to others.

Two points should be kept in mind : office-bearers may change ; addresses given may sometimes be in the nature of a reference specially where we say c/o.

(Government of Maharashtra)

Chamarbaugwala Road, Parel, Bombay 12.

Director :—Prof. V. B. Kamath, M.Sc. (Bom.), B.Sc. (Spl.), London, F.S.S. (London).

The Institute was started in 1947 with the purpose of organising leaders for labour and social work. Till 1955, 9 months and 3 months courses were conducted for the same for which students from all over India and candidates nominated by various State Governments, prominent industrial concerns and Trade Union Organisations, besides fresh students were taken up. In July 1955 the Institute started 2 year Diploma Course in Labour Welfare (Dip. L.W.) for training labour welfare officers. As in the past the institute gets the patronage of all State Governments, employers and trade union organisations.

Since July 1959 the Institute has been recognised by the Bombay University as a post-graduate institution of specialised studies leading to 2-year University Diploma in Labour Welfare (D.L.W.). The course is open to Degree holders in B.A., LL.B. or B.Com. of Bombay University or any other recognised University.

The Institute operates the State Workers' Education Scheme on behalf of the Government to train and discipline the mind of the workers, to enable them to be good and efficient workers and to promote better industrial relations. The class is open to all factory workers and each session lasts 3 months.

On behalf of the Planning Commission the Institute conducts from time to time Case-studies of Labour-Management Relations in different units.

The faculty consists of the following members. In addition, outside experts in various fields of labour are invited to deliver lectures on topics contained in the curriculum.

Lecturers :—O. P. Goel, B.A., Dip. S.S.A., S.A.F. (U.N.O.); V. G. Mhetras, M.A., LL.B.; G. K. Thakker, M.Com.; R. D. Joshi, B.A. (Hons.); Registrar : M. J. Naik, B.A., Dip.S.S.

* In the case of some institutions, besides the title and address a short note is added about their curriculum, etc. This is generally done where the objects, curriculum, organization are not immediately obvious from the title. A note is also added when an institution appears in our book for the first time. The addition of a note is not necessarily an indication of the institution's relative importance, that is, in relation to others.

"DUFFERIN," TRAINING SHIP

Off Mazgaon Pier, Bombay 10.

(Under the administrative control of the Government of India, Ministry of Transport & Communications).

CC-0. Agamnigam Digital Presevation Foundation, Chandigarh

The "Dufferin" is a pre-sea training ship for cadets aspiring to become Navigating Officers and ultimately the Captain of a ship in the Merchant Navy. A large number of ex-Dufferin cadets are also employed as officers in the Indian Navy, Port Services, Mercantile Marine Department and other ancillary services.

The course is of 2 years duration and consists of educational and professional subjects, stress being laid upon officer-like qualities and physical proficiency. All cadets are resident on board and are required to be physically fit to take part in all ship's activities. On satisfactory completion of training cadets are accepted in sea-going ships of the Merchant Navy for 3 years apprenticeship. After passing a Ministry of Transport Certificate of Competency they become qualified for appointment as Navigating Officers.

The age limits for admission are 15½ to 18 years on the 1st July of the year of entry. Annually about 80 cadets who have matriculated are selected on the basis of an all-India qualifying examination, and interview. The approximate total cost to a parent is about Rs. 2,300. A large number of scholarships ranging in value from Rs. 400 to Rs. 1,500 are available.

The first cadets joined the Training Ship in November 1927 since when 1,115 cadets have been trained for a sea career; in addition between the years 1936 and 1949, 287 cadets were trained for the Engineering Branch. Of the 1,115 cadets, 460 are Officers in the Merchant Navy, 61 in the Indian Navy, 175 in the Port Services and 57 are serving in the ancillary and other services. In addition, there are 163 cadets in training on board the ship.

The "Dufferin Committee" under the auspices of the Merchant Navy Training Board presided over by the Minister of State in the Ministry of Transport & Communications, with the Director General of Shipping as Chairman is the Advisory Body.

INDIAN INSTITUTE OF TECHNOLOGY

P.O. I. I. T. Bombay, Powai, Bombay 76.

The Institute is the second in the chain of four such institutes to be set up in the country. The first is located in Kharagpur.

The Institute has a campus of over 550 acres of picturesque land surrounding the Powai Lake in Greater Bombay which has been placed at its disposal by the Government of Bombay.*

The Institute has facilities for training 2,000 students—undergraduate, postgraduate and research. The Institute provides training in chemical, civil, electrical, mechanical and metallurgical engineering, leading to Bachelors and postgraduate degrees.

The Institute is fully residential and provides not only hostel accommodation for all the students on the campus but will also provide accommodation to its staff.

The building scheme of the Institute includes laboratories for various departments, central workshop, central library, assembly hall, auditorium, administrative blocks, printing press, hostels for students, a hostel for officers and residential buildings for members of staff.

The Institute has been functioning as an autonomous body governed by a Board of Governors under the Chairmanship of Kasturbhai Lalbhai since April 1958.

From the very beginning the UNESCO became associated with the Institute. As a result of an agreement with UNESCO ten million roubles worth of equipment from U.S.S.R. are being supplied to the Institute. In addition, equipment of 3 million roubles will be available to the Institute, under a new bilateral agreement between the Government of India and the Government of the U.S.S.R. The services of eighteen UNESCO experts are also made available to the Institute during a five-year period.

Facilities for training of teachers of the Institute in the U.S.S.R. are also being provided.

TATA INSTITUTE OF FUNDAMENTAL RESEARCH

Apollo Pier Road, Bombay 1.

The Tata Institute of Fundamental Research was established jointly by the Government of Bombay* and the Trustees of the Sir Dorabji Tata Trust in June 1945. The object of this all-India Institute is fundamental research in Physics, Mathematics and allied sciences. The Institute is permanently recognised by the University of Bombay as a constituent recognized institution for post-graduate research in physics and mathematics.

Though, at its inception, the Government of India was not directly concerned with the Institute, it has provided grants since 1948. In view of the increasing financial assistance given by the Government of India, which latterly contributed over 90% of the Institute's budget, a tripartite agreement was entered into between the Government of India, the Government of Bombay* and the Sir Dorabji Tata Trust, and came into force on April 1, 1956. This agreement, under which the Government of India recognises the Institute as the National Centre for advanced study and fundamental research in nuclear science and mathematics, provides for its administration by a council consisting of representatives of the 3 parties, the Government of India having a major voice.

Till the Atomic Energy Establishment of the Department of Atomic Energy was created, the Department recognised the Institute as the centre for all large-scale projects in nuclear research and entrusted to it important research projects in which it was interested. With the creation of the Atomic Energy Establishment such projects have been taken over by the Establishment; however, pending the construction of its own laboratories at Trombay, facilities are being provided at the Institute to some groups of the Physics Division of the Establishment.

INDIAN HUME PIPE CO., LTD., THE, are the largest manufacturers in India of Concrete Pipes, Steel Pipes and Concrete Poles, Concrete Pipes manufactured by this Company, better known as "Hume Pipes" and "Homogeneous Pipes" are very extensively used for Water Supply, Drainage, Culverts, Irrigation, etc. They are also used as Cable Conduits, Half-round and One-third round Channels, as well as for Well Sinking, Septic Tanks, Telephone Cabins, Dust Bins, Cattle Troughs, Fencing Posts, Latrines, Policeman Cabins, Pillars, etc.

For High Pressure Mains and Distribution required for Water Supply, the Company manufactures Steel Pipes lined and outcoated with Concrete, known as "Hume Steel Pipes." These too are very extensively used and are considered more economical than any other substitutes used for the purpose. During the World War II, the Company started manufacture of Welded Steel Pipes for Penstock requirements of Hydro-Electric Projects. The ever increasing requirement of Penstocks for the various Hydro-Electric Projects under the Second and Third Five Year Plans can now be met with by their Hadapsar Factory (Poona) which is equipped with the up-to-date machinery for Penstocks.

The R.C.C. Poles manufactured by this Company have very advantageously replaced the Steel Electricity Poles for both High Tension and Low Tension Transmission Lines. They are also largely used as Lamp Posts in all the big Cities.

Recently the Company has also started manufacturing the Prestressed Concrete Pipes, which are designed to stand pressures of 150′ of head and above.

The Company have a large network of about sixty factories spread over India, and Ceylon. Head Office: Construction House, Ballard Estate, Bombay 1. Telephone No. 26-5371 (3 lines). Telegraphic Address: "HUMEPIPE", Bombay.

Lt. M. S. Kohli made world news by climbing ANNAPURNA III and completing the conquest of the HIMALAYAS. As in the Everest climb with Col. Gyan Singh, so with Lt. M. S. Kohli were inseparable companions of the triumphant ANNAPURNA HEROES during their historic assault on the peak.
Here is the facsimile of the letter written to us by Lt. M. S. Kohli.

INDIAN ANNAPURNA III EXPEDITION 1961
Under the auspices of
THE INDIAN MOUNTAINEERING FOUNDATION

April 5, 1961

Dear Sir,

We thank you for the products so kindly donated by you.
We find them extremely useful and send you our best compliments.

Yours faithfully,
Sd/-Lt.M.S.Kohli.
